There Promises to Be Plenty of Fun on Labor Day for All Who Enjoy a Good Time.

Not only that but he also promises a treat in the shape of a genuine battle reproduction of the contest by skillful motion pictures. THREATS MADE; WOMAN ON STAND

WITNESS DECLARES, WHITE SAID, "WILL MAKE BUNCH COME ACROSS."

SEEK TO IMPEACH ACCUSER

Testimony Is Added in Browne Bribery Trial Contradicting Evidence Given by State's Main Witness—Miss Woods Retells Her Story.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—In another effort to impeach his testimony in the Leo O'Neill Browne bribery case, Charles A. White, the accuser, was recalled to the stand by counsel for the defense.

He was asked one question and was followed immediately by a witness who declared that White's reply was false.

Charles A. Simmons, a consulting engineer, who has been kept under cover by the defense, contradicted the testimony of White.

White Asked One Question.

The one question asked of White when he took the stand was:

"Is it not true that the day you saw Browne paid you $850 you went to the Briggs house and asked him for $60 and received that amount?"

"It is not," White replied.

Simmons testified that in his presence White approached Browne and received a sum of money that to him appeared to be made up of five five-dollar bills. He was positive, there were only five bills of small denomination, which he recognized by the color.

Young Woman on the Stand.

Miss Catherine Woods, a friend of Charles A. White in St. Louis, where she conducts a cigar counter in the Elmo hotel, followed Bell on the witness stand. Her testimony was a repetition of her evidence in the first trial. After admitting that she was divorced Miss Woods said she had been in White's company several times and that on one occasion White told her that he had killed two men in the south.

When White related to Miss Woods that he had a story on legislative bribery he was writing the witness said she cautioned White to be careful that he did not go to the penitentiary.

"I'll force the Lorimer bunch to come across," Miss Wood said White told her. "He said he wasn't afraid of the penitentiary, as rich men in Chicago were backing him and he would not get into trouble. He said he would get enough money from the Lorimer 'bunch' to live on for the rest of his life."

Accuser Made Threats.

Frederick Zentner, a salesman, testified that in a conversation he had with White in the barroom of the Briggs house White threatened to "make the Lorimer bunch come across." His testimony was practically the same as that given at the first trial. He also told of a trip to Muskogean with White and Browne.

The witness was sharply cross-examined by the prosecutor, but the latter failed to shake his testimony.

Hotel Man in Corroboration.

W. A. Storrer, assistant manager of the Briggs house, took the stand and corroborated Zentner regarding White's conversation in the buffet of the Briggs house. He said he was a party to the conversation. Mr. Wayman argued to strike out Storrer's testimony on a technicality, but was overruled.

Attorney Charles E. Erbstein announced that the defense would close today. State's Attorney Wayman told the court that the state would finish its testimony in rebuttal Thursday morning.

ASTRONOMERS STUDY THE SUN.

International Solar Union Assembles on Summit of Mt. Wilson.

Pasadena, Cal., Aug. 31.—About 40 of the world's most learned astronomers were present at the solar observatory on the summit of Mount Wilson today when the meeting of the International Solar union opened. The scientists arrived in Pasadena Sunday and ascended the mountain yesterday. Their sessions will continue until September 3.

The members present represent nearly all civilized nations, and this is their first meeting since 1907, when they assembled in Meudon, France. They will discuss many matters relating especially to the sun, including its spots, its corona and the variations in the amount of heat and light energy it pours upon the earth.

Many arrests of prominent persons charged with conspiracy have been made. The police tried to serve a warrant on Manuel Coronel Matias, prominent in the liberal congress and a journalist. As they approached him he placed his revolver in his mouth and blew out his brains.

JOHN BROWN PARK GIVEN TO KANSAS

from the over-division of government powers, the impotence which makes it possible for local selfishness or for legal cunning, hired by wealthy special interests, to bring National activities to a deadlock. This new Nationalism regards the executive power as the steward of the public welfare. It demands of the judiciary that it shall be interested primarily in human welfare rather than in property, just as it demands that the representative body shall represent all the people, rather than any one class or section of the people.

Believe in shaping the ends of government to protect property as well as human welfare. Normally, and in the long run, the ends are the same, but whenever the alternative must be faced I am for men and not for property. I am far from recommending the importance of dividends, but I rank dividends below human character. I know well that the reformers must not bring upon the people economic ruin, or the reform themselves will go down in the ruin. They must be ready to face temporary disaster, whether or not brought on by those who will war against us to the knife. Those who oppose all reform will do well to remember that ruin in its worst form is inevitable if our National life brings us anything better than swoll life fortunes for the few and the triumph in both politics and business of a sordid and selfish materialism.

Honesty in Public Servants.

If our political institutions were perfect, they would absolutely prevent the political domination of money in any part of our affairs. We need to make our political representatives more quickly and sensitively responsive to the people whose servants they are. More direct action by the people in their own affairs under proper safeguards is vitally necessary. The direct primary is a step in this direction if it is associated with a currency practice act which will prohibit the advertisement of the man willing recklessly and unscrupulously to spend money over his more honest competitor. It is particularly important that all money received or expended for campaign purposes be publicly accounted for not only after election but before election as well. Political action must be made simpler, easier, and freer from confusion for every citizen. I believe that the prompt removal of unfaithful or corrupt public servants should be made easy and sure in whatever way experience shall show to be most expedient in any given class of cases.

One of the fundamental necessities in a representative government such as ours is to make certain that the men to whom the people delegate their power shall serve the people by whom they are elected, and not the special interests. I believe that every National officer, elected or appointed, should be forbidden to perform any service or receive any compensation directly or indirectly from interstate corporations; and a similar provision could not fail to be useful within the states.

The object of government is the welfare of the people. The material progress and prosperity of a nation are desirable chiefly so far as they lead to the moral and material welfare of all good citizens. Just in proportion as the average man and woman are honest, capable of sound judgment and high ideals, active in public affairs—but first of all sound in their home life, and the father and mother of healthy children—just so far and no farther we may count our civilization a success. We must have a better, better we have already—a genuine and permanent moral awakening, without which no wisdom of legislation or administration really means anything; and, on the other hand, we must try to secure the social and economic legislation without which any improvement due to purely moral agitation is necessarily evanescent. What we need in good citizens. Good citizenship means progress; and therefore all good citizens should stand for progress, and must be progressive.

Why She Declined.

"Really," said the stylish lady, enthusiastically, to her friend, "it is worth while to see the wonderful display of rhododendrons." "Is it?" replied her friend, languidly; "I like to look at the great big clumsy beasts, too; but it always smells so unpleasantly around the cages."—London News.

Very Bad Cough. Pe-ru-na Stopped It.

DAUGHTER OF MRS. J. M. BROWN.

Mrs. J. M. Brown, Dunneagan, Mo., writes: "My little daughter, three years old, was troubled with a very bad cough which remained after an attack of enterical fever, which was a great deal worse at night."

"She would wake up out of her sleep and cough until I feared she could not stand it."

"Nothing that we gave her seemed to do her any good. I then concluded to send for Dr. Hartman's book entitled 'The Ills of Life,' which I promptly received."

"At the same time commenced giving her Peruna. She has taken one bottle in all, through which she has obtained a complete cure."

"She also since her birth was troubled with indigestion, but since she has taken Peruna she can eat almost any kind of food without any bad results."

"She is now as well and happy as any little girl can be. When our friends say how well she looks, I tell them Peruna did it."

"I shall always be a friend of Peruna, as I consider it the best medicine for coughs and indigestion we have ever tried, and will recommend it to any one similarly afflicted."

MRS. LYDIA J. SPOONER, Santa Monica, Cal., writes that they are never without Peruna in the home, that they find it the best family remedy they have ever used.

You Can Be a "Big" Man or a Little Man

You make your choice when you choose your school. The grade and high schools give a general education, but this is the day and age of specialists. The business world is asking for young men and women who can keep a set of books correctly, write a rapid, legible hand, operate a typewriter and write shorthand. This requires SPECIAL TRAINING. Present day business methods have worked the undoing of the UNTRAINED man. "Big" men are not BORN but MADE, and are proud to call themselves self-made men. Most of the men occupying the best positions in the world today can trace their beginning to a good business education in a good business school.

Art Leads Language and Science.
The fact is that art is working far ahead of language as well as of science, realizing for us, by all manner of suggestions and exaggerations, effects for which we have no name; nay, for which we may never perhaps have a direct name; for the reason that these effects do not enter very largely into the necessities of life. Hence alone is that suspicion of vagueness that often hangs about the purpose of a romance; it is clear enough to us in thought; but we are not used to consider anything clear until we are able to formulate it in words, and analytical language has not been sufficiently shaped to that end. It is not that there is anything blurred or indefinite in the impression left with us, it is just because the impression is so very definite after its own kind, that we find it hard to fit it exactly with the expressions of our philosophical speech.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

THE WAY OUT

What to Do When Food Don't Agree.

When food don't agree sensible folks make a change.

Where all others fail Grape-Nuts help partially digested and poorly assimilated food, succeeds usually from the first trial.

A lady in Washington says: "My baby 18 months old had never seen a well day in her life. She had suffered from indigestion from the time of her birth, and it seemed impossible to find any food to agree with her. She could keep almost nothing on her stomach and she was in such a constipated condition she suffered a great deal."

"It was then that I tried Grape-Nuts for her, steeping it thoroughly and straining it, putting a small portion in each feeding and it worked like a charm. She began to improve immediately and gained half a pound the first week."

"Baby got her indigestion from me, for my digestive organs have always been weak. I rely on Grape-Nuts for most of my food for there are times when I can eat nothing else. I am steadily improving and know Grape-Nuts will make me entirely well in time."

"I never have 'that tired feeling' anymore. I eat Grape-Nuts and I feel its effects in improved mental strength very forcibly."

"There's a Reason."

"INSURGENTS" ARE ON TOP

KANSAS REPUBLICAN STATE COUNCIL DOMINATED BY "PROGRESSIVE" FACTION.

TARIFF OF 1909 CONDEMNED

Senator Curtis Falls in Attempt to Secure Unqualified Indorsement of Tariff—President, However, Has Given Some Praise.

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 31.—The "insurgents" carried everything by storm at the party council here, having a good working majority present.

The standstills, realizing the overwhelming vote of the primary, decided not to make any effort to oppose the insurgents.

Senator Curtis was the only one who even made an attempt to stem the tide. He tried to get an unqualified indorsement of President Taft into the platform, but failed in the committee and did not carry the fight to the convention floor.

Resolutions were prepared by William Allen White, the Emporia editor, and embodied the sentiments expressed by Senator Brewster, Gov. W. R. Stubbs, Congressman Victor Murdock and the other insurgent leaders.

What the Platform Pledged.

The platform was adopted by an overwhelming vote. "We, the Republicans of Kansas in party council desiring to express our pride in the traditions of our party, feel that respect and veneration to those traditions and for the history we have made may be most adequately and fittingly expressed by turning our faces forward rather than backward. Therefore we bind ourselves to specific future performances rather than to ask for votes by reason of our past achievements, however great these may be. Our platform shall be a guarantee of performance rather than a confession of faith."

Taft is Congratulated.

"That we must congratulate President Taft as Republicans on the successful outcome of the progressive party measures in congress; the postal savings bank law, the railroad law and the law providing for the publicity of campaign expenses. And in this connection we wish to commend Representative Murdock and Madole for their work in congress pursuant to the instruction of the Kansas Republican platform of 1908, in modifying the rules of congress so that the enactment of these long-delayed measures was made possible."

Condemn 1909 Tariff Revision.

"We do not recognize the revision of the tariff of 1909 as a satisfactory fulfillment of the tariff pledge of the Republican platform. And we therefore pledge the people of Kansas that the Republican senators and congressmen from this state shall work and vote for legislation that will create an independent nonpartisan tariff commission, with ample power and sufficient appropriation to ascertain accurately the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad, and having obtained such information, we hereby pledge our Republican senators and congressmen immediately to fix the duties on the basis of this information."

Roosevelt is Indorsed.

"We pledge our Kansas Republican congressmen and senators to vote on all measures concerning the conservation of our natural resources along the lines advocated by former President Roosevelt, as opposed to the lines laid down by those who are hiding behind the outward doctrine of state's rights, and we demand that every possible effort be made to prevent private interests from obtaining unrestricted ownership or unchecked control over the vast mineral and water and timber resources of Alaska."

"We send our greeting to Theodore Roosevelt, the new world's champion of the rights of man in the world-old contest between rising humanity and the encroachments of special privilege. And as Republicans we stand ready to enlist under his banner in the fight for human rights."

DR. COOK IN A DASH AFTER POLE RECORDS

Explorer is Again Making His Way Into Frozen North in Search of Documents.

Copenhagen, Denmark, Aug. 31.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook is on his way to the north to seek for the records which he hopes will exonerate him in the eyes of the world.

From Godhavn, Greenland, there came a letter which establishes apparently beyond doubt that the Brooklyn surgeon is making his way northward in the effort to find records and instruments he is said to have left in the frozen north.

By those records and instruments Doctor Cook hopes to establish his contention that he was at the north pole a year ahead of Commander Robert E. Peary.

It is stated in the letter that the Brooklyn man has expressed himself as confident of being able to convince the world he is entitled to full credit as the original discoverer of the pole and to force the scientists at the University of Copenhagen to reverse their adverse decision.

In this respect the writer of the letter asserts that among the residents of Greenland there exists the belief that every claim made by Doctor Cook in connection with his dash northward is based upon fact and that the explorer will be enabled so to prove.

An American steamer bound southward recently dropped anchor in Godhavn harbor, saying the letter, and from the captain and crew was obtained further confirmation of the report that Doctor Cook had started a second dash northward with the object of obtaining the proof which he expects will set him right before the world.

MOBS ARE QUELLED BY TROOPS.

Would-Be Lynchers of Negro Murder

Suspects Are Quieted.

Huntington, W. Va., August 31.—With three companies of state militia under personal command of Adj. Gen. Elliott on guard and a machine gun in front of the county jail, no further rioting is anticipated by the mobs which for two successive nights stormed the jail in an effort to lynch John Wayne and Charles Clyburn, alleged negro murderers.

The Charleston military company, making the fourth company to be called out, will arrive here during the day.

Thirty persons have been arrested charged with participating in the rioting.

Intermittent rioting occurred during the greater part of last night, hundreds of persons swarming in the downtown streets and in the vicinity of the jail.

Wayne is charged with having murdered Mrs. John O'Hill at Quenemo, W. Va., recently, while Clyburn is charged with having murdered a citizen of Huntington a few days ago.

Effect of Sound and Color.

Every one is familiar with the effects of sound upon the nervous, harmonious sounds please and gratify, inharmonious sounds displease and irritate. Sweet music, the singing of birds, the purring of a brook, fall pleasantly upon the ear, soothing and delighting the hearer. The screeching of a rusty hinge, the banging of a door, the sound of a discordant piano, irritate and annoy the hearer. If long enough continued, such sounds will produce an evil condition of nervousness.

"Made in Janesville" Week to Be Held Sept. 29th, 30th and Oct. 1st

Practically every retailer in the city has been called on by the Secretary of this Club, and asked to donate the use of a display window for this great event.

But two refusals are reported. The proposition as explained to the retailers and manufacturers of Janesville is this: On the three days named above, the manufacturers will make displays of their wares in the windows of the retailers. As an example, The Janesville Machine Co. will display as fully as possible its manufactured articles in the J. M. Bodwick & Sons window; The Hanson Furniture Co. will have a display of their famous Dining Room Tables in another department store window; The Lewis Kitting Co. will make a display in the corner window of C. W. Diehl; The Thoroughgood & Co. will use the window of the Hinterschick store, etc., etc.

Displays of Janesville made goods will be made in stores carrying lines of goods entirely foreign to those of the manufacturer.

From early reports many visitors are expected in Janesville during this "Made in Janesville" week.

THE TRUE MORO.

It is interesting to note that those who profess to discern traces of the opera bouffe in the declaration of four Moro chieftains who represent some 40,000 tribesmen of that far-away country that their preference is for the American government controlling their country do not know the grim revengeful matter of fact Moro in his own madness.

In regard to "imperialism" as other things he makes his attitude perfectly clear. He is unequivocally for or against the government. The dramatic declaration of the dattos at the durbar in honor of Secretary of War Dickinson that they would fight if the American government withdrew from the Philippines astonishes none who know the local situation. It has been a foregone conclusion.

The Moro has been a rascal since before Spanish times. Even the Spaniards found it difficult to check his torments altogether. His power for conquest in the islands was limited only by his primitive methods of warfare. Nevertheless, his strength has been felt as far north as Manila. The American government was welcomed as a new and powerful ally, to be respected for his military prowess, wondered at for his word-keeping qualities. There has never been any general opposition to American authority among the Moro people of the southern archipelago. Those dattos who raised flags of defiance against the Americans did so on the same basis that they fought and oppressed their island kin. Moros have fought as valiantly and determinedly for the government as against it.

With the extension of American rule throughout the Moro provinces the inhabitants have felt the advantages of stable conditions and improvements—schools, manual training even in their native arts and the suppression of piracy, and slave raiding. Immense better times have come to the land than it knew under the old regime. There was little sentimental aversion to being governed by an invader. In fact, the victorious career of the new masters evoked admiration from their militant natures. Sometimes this led to a trial of steel, but this always ended one way. The island folk looked upon such men as General Wood and Colonel Hugh L. Scott as dattos of another race, and the greatest dattos of them all.

Since a prosperous American community has grown up in the Moro country there has been talk of setting up an American territory in case the Philippines become a republic. This was without reference to the native inhabitants. When it is recalled that American law has deprived them of one or two of their time-honored institutions, the indorsement by the native chiefs and the vassals is significant.

THROWN OVERBOARD.

There is no doubt that the ultra-progressives have thrown overboard William Mitchell Lewis and the men who have thus far made the present campaign as spectacular as it is. The desertion from Lewis to McGovern was planned long months ago but now, the last week of the campaign, after Lewis and his managers have spent thousands of dollars in advertising Senator La Follette, the ultras come into the foreground and make the breach an open one. While the Milwaukee Journal is usually unreliable in its editorial opinions still the latest utterance regarding this situation and touching upon county option, the main plank of the Lewis platform, is timely and shows which way the straw blows. Headed "Vote for the Cause," the Journal says:

"Candidate Lewis, who has made his campaign on the county option issue, is no longer a possibility in connection with the republican nomination for governor. He is virtually out of the contest and his issue, which many feared would divert public attention from the main question and thus injure the progressive movement, is buried for the time being. Actual figures show that there is not the slightest chance of a county option bill's passing the next legislature."

Then it goes on to abuse, roughly, the usual Journal type of campaign argument, the candidates for the conservative wing of the republican party on the ticket headed by Cook, Fairchild, Hudnall, and others. What Mr. Lewis or Mr. Lewis' friends will say to this wholesale treachery is not fit to be printed in any newspaper that passes through the malle conducted by the government. However, had they looked into the history of the ultra progressive wing of the party they would have found that it had always been the policy to use a man with money as long as they could and then desert him. Republicans for office, democrats in office, should be the slogan they shout in seeking votes.

STRANGE CONDITIONS.

Every year the press dispatches are filled with reports of the immense crops of the west which need eastern capitalists to loan the money needed to move them to the markets. It is pleasing to learn that the west can now move its own crops. Just like the sale of wild cat mining stock, the fever which sweeps over the country every so often, all the good stocks can be bought in the west while the less secure stocks are hawked about in the eastern markets finding ready purchasers among those who seek a hundred per cent profits for the few dollars invested. The same is true of southern lands that are now being boomed so earnestly. When it comes, however, to the report that the west can finance the movement of its own crops it shows the country has gone ahead in the past few years at a wonderful stride. An eastern exchange in commenting upon this statement of a prominent western banker that the west is amply supplied with money for moving of its crops this year, says that it does not come upon this country as a surprise. Rather, it is a confirmation of the growing popular belief in the West's financial independence. It has not been long since the annual need of the West for crop-moving money constituted an important factor in the operations of the eastern money market, and it seems strange now that Americans hear no more the old explanation of a money shortage at this season of the year, or of the old excuse for a harvest rise in interest charges.

One of the most satisfying features of the change is the fact that the West is assuming its position of financial independence with becoming modesty. There is nothing of the exultant in its tone because it is no longer in need of assistance. While realizing the full meaning of the change which makes it possible for it to disregard eastern financial conditions to a large extent in the matter of moving and marketing its products, the West is far from being ungrateful of the obligations it is still under to the East in many other respects.

The West is still coming to the East for the money wherewith to carry on its great public and private improvements. If the West should attempt to meet the cost of the development going on in that section from its own financial resources, it would not be able to move its crops so easily and so independently as it can now.

Time was when the statement that the East held a blanket mortgage on the West was almost literally true. This, however, is no longer the case. The West has been lifting its mortgage steadily and rapidly in the last twenty-five years. It has ceased in this respect to be a borrower, and has become a lender. But with regard to the underlings and enterprises that demand the employment of extraordinary capital, the West still comes to the East with its hat in one hand and its hands in the other.

This is the season for county fairs and the pumpkin shows throughout the state are starting. Evansville is enjoying the pleasure of entertaining a large crowd of enthusiastic fair-goers this week and other counties follow in quick succession.

Mr. Dunwiddie's campaign has been dignified thus far and he has not had to resort to mud-slinging to impress the voters with his fitness for the office.

Gallagher, the man who shot Mayor Thayer, says that his prayers for the recovery of his victim have been answered. He should have prayed first.

Laden with sugar a vessel fought with ice while rounding Cape Horn. There were parts of the ingredients for a good drink on board, too.

Ransom continues to loom up as the real solution of the contest for the nomination for sheriff. He is a strong man seeking the right place.

Winners of auto races will never be as popular as were the bike racers when everyone owned a bike.

Holders of the Illinois Central stock may have to do their own car repairing before they get through with it.

Voters of the first assembly district should all decide promptly to vote for Whitte for the assembly.

Colonel Roosevelt is having a regular first season sort of a time on his wild western trip.

Do not forget that E. T. Fairchild stands for republicanism, not factionalism.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

MILKING TO MUSIC.

A Michigan farmer contends that cows give more milk while music is being rendered.

In order to test his theory Mr. Lederer, manager of the Olympic theater, Chicago, lent his entire orchestra of nine instruments and went to the farm of Mrs. Scott Durand, a society woman whose aid is daubing.

The sixty-one Jerseys and Holsteins on the farm were milked to such tunes as "The Blue Danube" and other soothing strains. The milkers claim the nerves of the cows were calmed and their udders gave down more readily.

Musical impregnated milk is a fact, not a theory, according to this unique experiment.

In order to further demonstrate the matter the orchestra shifted from the soft, alluring airs to ragtime music.

The cows grew restless.

"Horror!" exclaimed Mrs. Durand. "Stop it!"

Then the musicians glided into a selection from "Tosca," "I Live For Love and Music," and the cows became quiet and contented again.

Well, why not?

The entire party was convinced, and Mrs. Durand will equip her barns with several phonographs, to be used during milking time.

The Michigan farmer, with a smaller number of cows, has used a phonograph for two years.

Moreover—

It is the settled policy of both the Michigan dairyman and Mrs. Durand that exceedingly kind treatment of the cows is essential to the best results. On either of these farms the employee who would kick or beat the cows or insultingly employ abusive language toward them is instantly discharged.

The moral is plain.

Leaving the discussion to the psychologists, we may ask, if music and kindness are productive of good results as to cows, why not use it on humans?

Those Key West cigar manufacturers who employ readers and musicians to entertain the employees while they work at the benches are wise.

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast," and so has kindness.

Should we employ music and kindness less to our loved ones than to our cows?

Some will laugh at the claim that more milk and better milk can be got from cows by means of music and kindness.

But then some will also deny that music and kindness properly employed will pay when applied to humans.

Young Alexander Jimpson Jopp was working in a hardware shop, and as he wrapped up iron rails, and axles, bolts and keys of

THE DISSATISFIED and screws and pins of lead, he often to his fellows said:

"This labor makes me tired, by Jingo! For I was built for higher things. I'm fitted to adorn the bench instead of selling monkey-wrench, and spade and hoe and tin's goods, and oil-smelling axle grease." He heaved the work he had to do, and crossed it up the air. Young Richard Henry Jance Kopp was also working in that shop; he carried axles all the day, and as he talked he used to say: "There may be better jobs than this, imparting more of ease and bliss but I will do my best, and strive, to show the boss that I'm alive; I may be built for higher spheres, but I won't wet the shop with tears. If those blessed spheres are hunting me they'll find me busy as a bee." Young Alexander Jimpson Jopp still sweats around that hardware shop, and carries anchors to and fro, and draws a pulley bunch of dough, while Richard Henry sits in state, wears hard-boiled shirts and pays the freight.

In Russia one letter in every ten passing through the post is opened by the authorities as a matter of course. Some kinds of paper can be steamed open without leaving any traces and this simple operation is finished by re-burnishing the flap with a bone instrument. In the case of a seal a matrix is taken by means of new bread before breaking the wax. When other methods fail the envelope is placed between pieces of wood with edge projecting one-twentieth of an inch. The edge of the envelope is first flattened, then roughened and finally slit open. Later a hair line of strong white gum is applied and the edges are united under pressure.

TO EXPEDITE THE WORK IN ASPHALT

Crushed Stone Dressing Will Be Worked from Waukesha and City Will Pay the Extra Cost.

Work on the asphalt-metum contract on Shielah street is being seriously hampered by the inability of the Grand-Graham company to secure a sufficient quantity of the No. 3 chip stone or " screenings" from the local crusher plant and according to the contract Graham's estimate all the No. 1 and No. 2 stone that is to be broken up for use on South Main street and the various other thoroughfares where improvements are under way will not furnish enough of this by-product to take care of the asphalt highways. According to his interpretation of the contract the city is under obligation to furnish him the needed material at 50 cents a yard, and at the instance of the street assessment committee a special meeting of the common council was called for this morning to ascertain whether or not the city would be willing to help pay the difference in the cost at the rate of forty-two and one-half cents a cubic yard, providing the contractors ordered some 150 yards of the Waukesha Limestone and once by the Waukesha Limestone & Cement company. After considerable discussion, including frequent reference to a claim that too much No. 3 had been used in lieu of No. 2 in filling the "channels" on the under street, a resolution incorporating an agreement on the part of the city to forty-two and one-half cents per cubic yard for all such extra Waukesha material used to complete the contracts on Shielah, South Third, and South Second streets, with the understanding that all such material available at the crusher plant should be pressed into service, and that the third ward fund should bear this extra expense, was passed by unanimous vote. All of the city fathers excepting Alderman Lowell and Dulin were present at the meeting.

JOHN BROWN PARK GIVEN TO KANSAS

Address by Theodore Roosevelt
Closes the Ceremonies.

GREAT DAY FOR OSAWATOMIE

Standing Where Battle of Osawatomie
Was Fought, Ex-President Gives Address on Ideas of Freedom and the Good Government.

Osawatomie, Kan., Aug. 31.—Col.
Roosevelt said:

There have been two great crises in our country's history: first when it was formed, and then again when it was perpetuated. The formative period included not merely the Revolutionary war, but the creation of the Constitution of the United States. Then came sixty years during which we spread across the continent—years of vital growth, but of growth without rather than growth within. Then came the time of stress and strain which culminated in the Civil war, the period of terrible struggle upon the issue of which depended the justification of all that we had done earlier, and which marked the second great period of growth and development within. The name of John Brown will be forever associated with this second period of the Nation's history; and Kansas was the theater upon which the first act of the second of our great National life dramas was played. It was the result of the struggle in Kansas which determined that our country should be in deed as well as in name devoted to both union and freedom, that the great experiment of democratic government on a National scale should succeed and not fail. It was a heroic struggle, and, like all the great struggles of our history, it had its dark and terrible side. Very much was done of good, and much also of evil; and, as was inevitable in such a period of revolution, often the same man did both good and evil. For our country as a whole, as a Nation, we, the people of the United States as a whole, can now afford to forget the evil, or at least to remember it without bitterness, and to fix our eyes with pride on the good that was accomplished. Even the darkest of our country are very few of us who do not see the problems of life as through a glass, darkly; and when the glass is clouded by the mark of furious passion, the vision of the best and the bravest is dimmed. Looking back, then, our country now able to do justice to the value and the disinterestedness and the love of the right as to each it was given to see the right, shown both by the men of the north and the men of the south in that contest which was finally decided by the attitude of the west. We can admire the heroic valor, the sincerity, the self-devotion shown alike by the men who wore the blue and the men who wore the gray; and our sadness that such men should have had to fight each other here is overbalanced by the glad knowledge that ever hereafter their descendants shall be found fighting side by side, struggling in peace as well as in war for the uplift of their common country. All alike resolved to raise to the highest pitch of honor and usefulness the Nation to which they all belong. As for the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, they deserve honor and recognition such as is paid to no other citizens of the Republic; for to them the Republic owes its all, for to them it owes its very existence.

Application of the Lesson.

I do not speak of this struggle of the past merely from the historic standpoint. Our interest is primarily in the application today of the lesson which it has in the content of half a century ago. It is of little use for us to pay lip loyalty to the mighty men of the past unless we sincerely endeavor to apply to the problems of the present, precisely the qualities which in other crises enabled the men of that day to meet those crises. It is half-remembered and half-anxious to see the way in which well-meaning people gather to do honor to the men who, in company with John Brown, and under the lead of Abraham Lincoln, faced and solved the great problems of the nineteenth century, while at the same time those same good people nervously shrink from or frantically denounce those who are trying to meet the problems of the twentieth century in the spirit which was accountable for the successful solution of the problems of Lincoln's time.

"I hold that while man exists it is his duty to improve not only his own condition but to assist in ameliorating that of his fellow-men. Part of this duty is to be done by the individual, and independent of capital; capital is only the fruit of labor, and could never have existed but for labor. Labor is the superior of capital and deserves much the higher consideration. Capital has its rights, but it has no rights which will justify it in oppressing any other rights. . . . Nor should this lead to a war upon the owners of property. Property is the fruit of labor; property is desirable; it is a positive good in the world. Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus by example showing that his own shall be safe from the ravages of time. . . . It seems to me that in these words Lincoln took substantially the attitude that we ought to take; he showed the proper sense of proportion in his relative estimates of capital and labor, of human rights and property rights. He was in this respect, as in many others, he taught a lesson in wise kindness and charity; an indispensable lesson to us of today. But this wise kindness and charity never weakened his arm or numbed his heart. He could afford weakly to blind himself to the actual conflict which faces us today. The issue is joined, and we must fight or fall.

Equality of Opportunity.
In every wise struggle for human betterment one of the main objects, and often the only object, has been to achieve in larger measure equality of opportunity. In the struggle for this great end, nations rise from barbarism to civilization, and through it progress forward from one stage of enlightenment to the next. One of the chief factors in progress is the destruction of special privilege. The essence of any struggle for healthy liberty lies always in the fact that it is always to be taken from one man or class of men the right to enjoy power, or wealth, or position, or immunity, which has not been earned by service to his or their fellows.

At many stages in the advance of humanity this conflict between the man who possesses more than he has earned and the man who has earned more than he possesses is the central condition of progress. In our day it appears as the struggle of free men to gain and hold the right of government, and give to the life and citizenship of every individual the highest possible value both to himself and to the commonwealth.

Practical equality of opportunity for all citizens, when it is achieved, will lead to great results. First, every man will have a fair chance to make of himself all that in him lies, to reach the highest point to which his capacities, unhampered by special privilege of his own and unimpeded by the special privileges of others, can carry him, and to get for himself and his family substantially what he has earned. Second, equality of opportunity means that the commonwealth will get from every citizen the highest service of which he is capable. No man who carries the burden of the special privileges of another can give to the commonwealth the service to which it is fairly entitled.

I stand for the square deal. But when I say that I am for the square deal I mean not merely that I stand for fair play under the present rules of the game, but that I stand for having those rules changed so as to work for a more substantial equality of opportunity, and of reward for equally good service.

This means that our governments, National and State, must be freed from the sinister influence of control of special interests. Exactly as the special interests of cotton and slavery threatened our political integrity before the Civil war, so now the great special business interests threaten to corrupt the men and methods of government for their own profit. We must drive the special interests out of politics. That is one of our tasks today. Every special interest is entitled to justice—full, fair, and complete. But it is entitled to no vote in Congress, a voice on the bench, or to representation in any public office. The Constitution guarantees protection to property, and we must make that promise good. But it does not give the right of suffrage to any corporation.

Property Should Be the Servant.

The true friend of property, the true conservative, is he who insists that property shall be the servant and not the master of the commonwealth; who insists that the creature of man's making shall be the servant and not the master of the man who made it. The citizen of the United States must effectively control the mighty commercial forces which they have themselves called into being.

There can be no effective control of corporations while their political activity remains. To put an end to it will be neither short nor an easy task, but it can be done.

We must have complete and effective publicity of corporate affairs, so that the people may know beyond peradventure whether the corporations obey the law and whether they are honestly and justly to the confidence of the public. It is necessary that laws should be passed to prohibit the use of corporate funds directly or indirectly for political purposes; it is still more necessary that such laws should be thoroughly enforced. Corporate expenditures for political purposes, and especially such expenditures by public service corporations, have supplied one of the principal sources of corruption in our political affairs. It has been said that the only way to see the Nation forced into ownership of the railways if it can possibly be avoided, and the only alternative is the thoroughgoing and effective regulation, which shall be based on a full knowledge of all the facts, including a physical valuation of the property. This physical valuation, if needed, or at least is very rarely needed, for rating rates; but it is needed as the basis of honest capitalization.

We have come to recognize that franchises should never be granted except for a limited time and never without proper provision for compensation to the public. It is my personal belief that the same kind and degree of control and supervision which should be exercised over public service corporations should be extended also to combinations which control necessities of life, such as meat, oil, and coal, or which deal in them on an important scale.

I believe that the officers, and especially the directors, of corporations, should be held personally responsible when any corporation breaks the law.

Dealing With Combinations.

Combinations in industry are the result of an imperative economic law which cannot be repealed by political legislation. The effort at prohibiting all combination has substantially failed. The way out lies not in attempting to prevent such combinations, but in controlling them in the interest of the public welfare. For that purpose the Federal Bureau of Corporations is an agency of the first importance. Its power and therefore its efficiency, as well as that of the Interstate Commerce Commission, should be largely increased. We have a right to expect from the Bureau of Corporations and from the Interstate Commerce Commission a very high grade of public service. We should be as sure of the proper conduct of interstate railways and the proper management of interstate business as we are now sure of the conduct and management of the National banks, and we should have an effective supervision in the case of the latter. The Hepburn act, and the amendment to that act in the shape in which it finally passed Congress at the last session, represent a long step in advance and we must go yet further. There is a widespread belief among our people that, under the methods of making tariffs which have hitherto obtained, the special interests are too influential. Probably this is true of both the big interests and the little interests. These methods have put a premium on selfishness, and naturally the selfish big interests have gotten more than the selfish small interests. The duty of Congress is to provide a method by which the interest of the whole people shall be all that receives consideration. There must be an expert tariff commission, wholly removed from the possibility of political pressure or of improper business influence. Such a commission can find out the real difference between cost of production, which is usually the duty of labor cost here and abroad. As fast as its recommendations are made, I believe in revising one schedule at a time. A general revision of the tariff almost inevitably leads to log-rolling, and the undisciplined action of the special public interest to local and special interests.

The absence of effective state, and especially National, restraint upon unfair money-getting has tended to create a small class of enormously wealthy and enormously powerful men, whose chief object is to hold and increase their power. The prime need is to change the conditions which enable these men to accumulate power which it is not for the general welfare that they should hold or exercise. We grade no man a fortune which represents his own power and sagacity, when exercised with entire regard to the welfare of his fellows. But the fortune must be honorably obtained and well used. It is not even enough that it should have been gained without doing harm to the community. We should permit it to be gained only so long as the gaining represents benefit to the community. This, I know, implies a policy of a far more active government interference with accumulation of wealth than we have yet had, but I think we have got to face the fact that such an increase in governmental control is now necessary.

Income and Inheritance Taxes.

No man should receive a dollar unless that dollar has been fairly earned. Every dollar received should represent a dollar's worth of service rendered. The really big fortune, the swollen fortune, the fortune which is the result of accumulation, which differentiates it in kind as well as in degree from what is possessed by men of relatively small means. Therefore I believe in a graduated income tax on big fortunes, and in another tax which is to be levied on the inheritance of big fortunes, graduated inheritance tax on big fortunes, properly safeguarded against evasion, and increasing rapidly in amount with the size of the estate.

The people of the United States suffer from the fact that they are not acquainted with the conditions which are so disastrously different from those which we have got to face. The conditions which approach us in financial strength. There is no reason we should suffer what they escape. It is of profound importance that our financial system should be promptly investigated, and so thoroughly and effectively revised as to make it certain that hereafter our currency will no longer fall at critical times to meet our needs.

It is hardly necessary for me to repeat that I believe in an efficient army and a navy large enough to secure for us abroad that respect which is the surest guarantee of peace. Justice and fair dealing among nations rest on principles identical with those which control justice for a limited time and never without which nations are composed; with the vital realization that each nation must do its own part in international police work. National friendships, like those between men, must be founded on respect as well as on liking, on forbearance as well as on trust. In all this it is peculiarly the duty of the United States to set a good example.

Of conservation I shall speak more at length elsewhere. Conservation means development as much as it does protection. I recognize the right and the duty of this generation to develop and use the natural resources of our land, but I do not recognize the right to waste them, or to rob, by wasteful use, the generations that come after us. The natural resources must be used for the benefit of all our people and not monopolized for the benefit of the few. That is one of the fundamental reasons why the special interests must be driven out of politics. Of all the questions which can come before the Nation, short of the actual preservation of its existence, the most important is none which compares in importance with the great central task of leaving this land even a better land for our descendants than it is for us, and training them into a better race than we are. Conservation is a great moral issue, for it involves the patriotic duty of insuring the safety and continuance of the Nation. Let me add that the health and vitality of our people are at least as well worth conserving as their land, water, forests, and minerals, and that in this great work the National government must bear a most important part.

I have spoken elsewhere, also, of the great task which lies before the farmers of the country to get for themselves and for their wives and children the best of both worlds, but also those of better business methods and better conditions of life on the farm. The burden of this great task will fall, as it should, mainly upon the great organizations of the farmers themselves. I am glad that I believe they are well able to handle it. In particular, there are strong reasons why the departments of agriculture of the various states, the United States department of agriculture, and the agricultural colleges and experiment stations should extend their work to cover all phases of life on the farm, instead of limiting themselves, as they have far too often limited themselves in the past, solely to the question of the production of crops.

Human Welfare Comes First.

Nothing is more true than that excess of every kind is followed by reaction; a fact which should be pondered by reformer and reactionary alike. We are far too far from the goal of human welfare, chiefly because certain advocates of the rights of property are against the rights of men. The man who wrongly holds that every human right is secondary to his right to accumulate wealth, who wrongly maintains that every man holds his property subject to the general right of the community to regulate its use to whatever degree the public welfare may require it. But I think we may go still further. The right to regulate the use of wealth in the public interest is universally admitted. Let us admit also the right to regulate the terms and conditions of labor, which is the chief element of wealth, directly in the interest of the common good. The fundamental thing to do for every man is to give him the chance to reach a place in which he will make the greatest possible contribution to the public good. No man can be a good citizen unless he has a wage more than sufficient to cover the bare cost of living, and hours of labor short enough so that after his day's work is done he will have time and energy to bear his share in the management of the country, to help in carrying the general load. We keep countless men from being good citizens by the conditions of life with which we surround them. We need comprehensive workmen's compensation acts, laws to limit the hours of child labor and the work of women, and especially we need in our common schools not merely education in book-learning but also practical training for daily life and work. We need to enforce better sanitary conditions for our workers, and to extend the two of safety appliances in industry and commerce both within and between the states. Also, freedom in the interest of the workingman himself we need to set our faces like flint against mob violence just as against corporate greed; against violence and injustice and lawlessness by wage-workers just as much as against lawless cunning and greed and selfishness of employers.

National efficiency has many factors. It is a necessary result of the principle of conservation widely applied. In the end it will determine our future or success as a Nation. National efficiency has to do not only with natural resources and with men. It is equally concerned with institutions. The state must be made efficient for the work which concerns only the people of the state; and the Nation for that which concerns all the people. There must be no neutral ground to serve as a refuge for lawbreakers, and especially for lawbreakers of great wealth, who can hire the cunning legal cunning which will teach them how to avoid both jurisdictions. It is a misfortune when the National legislature fails to do its duty in providing a National remedy, so that the only National activity is the purely negative activity of the Judiciary in forbidding the state to exercise power in the premises.

Calls for Broad Nationalism.

I do not ask for over-centralization, but I do ask that we work in a spirit of broad and far-reaching Nationalism when we work for what concerns our people as a whole. We are all Americans. Our common interests are as broad as the continent. I speak to you here in Kansas exactly as I would speak in New York or Georgia, for the most vital problems are those which affect us all alike. The National government belongs to the whole American people, and where the whole American people are interested, that interest can be guaranteed effectively only by the National government. The betterment which we seek must be accomplished, I believe, mainly through the National government.

The American people are right in demanding that new Nationalism without which we cannot hope to deal with new problems. The new Nationalism puts the National need before sectional or personal advantage. It is impatient of the utter confusion that results from local legislatures attempting to treat National issues as local issues. It is still more impatient of the ignorance which surges

Women Are to Share with Men.

Men and women are to have a common way of life—a common education—and they are to watch over the citizens in common, whether abiding in the city or going out to war; they are to guard together and to hunt together like dogs; and always and in all things women are to share with the men.—Plato.

World's Wool Production.

The world's wool record is held by Australia, with Argentina second and the United States third.

Birds Forewarn Storm.

A German officer described in the Rote Kreuz a curious scene he witnessed on a ride in southwest Africa. A number of vultures, eagles and other large birds suddenly gathered on the trees at one place. A few dark clouds were visible, and ere long there was a violent tropical storm. The water penetrated into holes in the ground, from which presently emerged large numbers of snakes, scorpions and mice, and these the birds pecked upon and devoured.

No Doubt a Reader of "Punch."

A hearty laugh had gone almost around over the story of the fisherman who, to locate the place on the lake where he had had good luck, cut a nick in the side of his boat. "Almost around," for the Englishman sat solemn and silent. About five minutes later, however, he awoke with a roar of laughter, and when asked the trouble, replied: "Well, wouldn't it be a corking good joke if that fisherman got a different boat the next time he went out?"

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

CAN YOU talk small talk?

If you can, be thankful.

If you can't, suppose you learn to.

I don't believe you will regret the effort.

It is splendid to be able to talk well on deep and important subjects, but that ability does not by any means do away with the need of being able to talk lightly and easily on unimportant subjects. And the man or woman who considers that it does and despises small talk, I think makes a great mistake.

Small talk is the small coin of social intercourse, and as such no one can afford to be without it.

It is splendid to have a wallet stuffed full of twenty and fifty dollar bills and big checks, but it is decidedly inconvenient to have no smaller change.

Yes, of course, one would prefer to have the bills and do without the small change to having things the other way around, but why not have both?

Some years ago a young newspaper man of decided genius, a brilliant conversationalist when talking on some of his favorite subjects, came to call on me.

I introduced him to my mother, and what do you suppose his first remark after the "Pleased to meet you" was?

"Would you like to know my idea of the universe?"

And forthwith he expounded it to her.

Imagine it.

His idea of the universe was rather original and worth hearing, to be sure, but wasn't his offering it as an opening remark about as absurd as passing your newshy a hundred dollar check to pay for your morning paper?

Now I certainly wouldn't want that man to lose one bit of his originality and depth of thought, or the least bit of his ability to talk fascinatingly on deep subjects, but I do think it would smooth his future path for him if he could learn to talk small talk on occasions.

To be able to talk witty and sparkling small talk is a fine art—a genius before which I bow to deep admiration.

I listen to people who can do that with the same enjoyment with which I watch a game of tennis between skillful players.

That, however, is a gift. We cannot all possess it.

But by conscientiously forcing ourselves to practice it whenever occasion arises, I think we can all learn to talk decently creditable small talk.

And don't you think that's worth while?

Superstition About Clock.

The famous clock of Hampton Court palace, England, is said by many superstitious people to stop when a person long a resident in the castle dies.

The first instance recorded is that of Anne of Denmark, queen of James I. The clock, which was striking four at the moment, immediately stopped. Other instances are cited.

Poor Woman's Lucky Find.

While taking up the floor of an empty house at Patrocinia, Brazil, a poor woman found imbedded in the earth beneath a diamond of the first water and perfect shape, weighing 220 carats.

It is the second largest diamond ever found in America.

SEASHORE LINEN SUIT.

Here is a design for a linen frock much favored by the younger set for seashore wear. Usually they are made of colored linen, violet, blue or pink.

The skirt has a panel front and graduated flounce about sides and back, attached to upper part under a fairly deep tuck. The bodice blouse has a long skirt falling almost to knee depth.

Physical Powers of Insects.

Ants will carry loads 10 or 50 times as heavy as themselves. The beetle can move a weight 112 times his own weight. The house fly gives 600 strokes of its wings in one second, and this enables it to get a distance of 25 feet.

THE BLACK SILK QUESTION?

DOL-R-SILK

The MANUFACTURERS of DOL-R-SILK offer through us a dependable yard wide Black Silk of Extra Value, very bright and lustrous, that is far superior to the silk that is usually sold for $1.00.

The price and quality are always the same, and the purchaser can always depend upon getting value received when they buy this Silk.

The name DOL-R-SILK is woven in the selvage of every yard, and this TRADE MARK is stamped on the end of every piece.

No one can possibly tell how long any Silk will wear; you must depend upon the judgment of your dealer, and he must depend upon the manufacturer.

The manufacturers of DOL-R-SILK declare that the Silk and Dye used in this fabric is the best that money and long experience can produce, and that with proper usage this Silk will give satisfactory wear.

You will always find a complete stock of these goods in our Silk Department.

We invite an early inspection.

You Can Be Made Well If You Will Come to the Chiropractors

Every disease known to mankind yields to Chiropractic adjustments. Chiropractic is a science of old truths, the most wonderful aid to mankind in centuries. It's a new science, that analyzes and locates unerringly the physical cause of disease, and provides a means of adjusting or removing this cause more promptly, radically and permanently than any other method known at the present time. These may seem bold statements to make. Yet there is plenty of proof R. Puddicombe to back them up. If you are sick and suffer, J. N. Puddicombe, M.D., if you have tried the medical profession and failed to be cured, come to me. Ninety-eight per cent of the people that come to the Chiropractors are made well, and this notwithstanding the fact that 75 per cent of these same people have been given up by the medical profession.

Call for an examination and advice in regard to your troubles. Even though slight, they may be nature's danger signals of serious ailments.

VOILE COAT SUIT.

An odd but good-looking coat suit of dark blue voile. In lieu of the much-used tunic, there is an overskirt of shaped panels, each edged all around with a blue band of self-toned satin and fastened to skirt on each side with a good-sized fancy button. The coat, rather more elaborate than the earlier methods, is none the less stylish. The skirt collar and belt are of satin, as are the small inset pieces just below elbow on sleeves. This is a charming model for an autumn bride's traveling suit.

WIN PRIZES AT GROCERS' PICNIC

JANESVILLE CONTESTANTS TAKE MAJORITY OF EVENTS.

FOUR THOUSAND AT PARK

Great Crowd Attends Largest Picnic Ever Given by Grocers' Association of Janesville and Beloit.

Janesville carried off a majority of the prizes in the numerous athletic events and freak contests arranged by the Janesville and Beloit Grocers' Association at their annual picnic at York Park yesterday. Despite the rain during the morning, the grounds were packed by visitors during the afternoon and early evening and the attendance was estimated at four thousand.

Batteries for the Beloit team consisted of: Harry, Solbert, Hamilton, Moore and Tiffany for Beloit. The Athletics made ten hits to the Nationals eight while Orr fanned fourteen and the opposing pitchers could only whiff four.

In the morning, the Janesville clerks wrested victory from their Beloit City opponents by a score of 8 to 5. Green and Brown worked for the locals and Bird and Gillman for Beloit. The most laughable contest, that of catching the greased pig, was won by Ed. Ward of this city, clerk at Winslow's store who managed to secure a half Nelson on the slippery animal. MERKLEY GIRL WEDDED TO CAPRON, ILL. MAN

Young Woman Who Was Arrested Here on Larceny Charge Became A Bride in Beloit Yesterday.

Seventeen-year-old Etta Christina Merkley whom the local police, acting under instructions from Chief August 23 on a charge of borrowing a bicycle in Beloit and offering it for sale, was married to Boyd Foster of Capron, Ill., in the Line City yesterday afternoon.

The ceremony was performed by Municipal Judge C. D. Rosa about an hour after the district attorney, in consultation with the court, had recommended a discharge of the larceny charge, and after a special dispensation had been issued allowing the marriage ceremony to take place without the preliminary five days' notice required by law. At the time of her detention here, the young lady avowed an intention of marrying Arthur Carter, employed in the street improvement work, but her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merkley, would not consent to any such arrangement. The couple will make their home in Capron.

NEIGHBORS FIGHT FLAMES ON FARM

Between Sixty and Seventy Saved Buildings on John O'Connor Place Near Monroe.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Monroe, Wis., August 31.—What threatened to be a bad fire on the John O'Connor farm, west of the city, was checked by between sixty and seventy neighbors who fought flames in the large barn on the place until the chemical extinguisher equipment of the Blumer Bros. company could be sent from here to put out the fire.

Smoke was discovered issuing from the side of the barn at 6 o'clock in the morning. An alarm was quickly given and neighbors were not slow in responding. The fire burst out at intervals from the hay in one side of the barn, and it was found that it was working downward. The side on which the fire was spreading was torn out and it was owing to the success of the neighbor's aid that the fire was held under control until the extinguisher arrived, the flames having no chance after that. The loss is estimated at about $300.

Frank Staudcup Dead.

Fred Staudcup received a telegram yesterday from Sanborn, S. D., stating the death of his son, Frank Staudcup, who went to Sanborn in July to work on a farm. He was in good health when his father last heard from him. The young man was 33 years of age and served with Co. H, in the Spanish-American war.

Personal Items.

Moses Margaret Schlessor, Ida Burkhalter and Sophie Stehman are attending a young people's convention of the Evangelical church at Menomonie Falls.

William Donner, who has been here on a visit to his mother and other relatives, has returned to Ross Ford, Idaho, where he is an instructor in the government Indian school.

Miss Charlotte Schuetz, of Milwaukee, is the guest of Mrs. Ed. Conscience.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ruf have gone to Prairie du Chien where Mr. Ruf will take treatment at the sanitarium for rheumatism.

Mrs. A. McCamant and daughter, Miss Minnie McCamant have returned from a visit to relatives in the state of Iowa.

Miss Nettie Grochowsky, after a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Grochowsky, left last evening for Duluth.

Mrs. W. A. Severance and children are here from Prescott for a visit at the home of H. L. Bell.

Educational Disciplines.

Most persons will find difficulties and hardships enough without seeking them; let them not repine, but take them as a part of that educational discipline necessary to fit the mind to arrive at its highest good.—Charles Dray.

WHITE BASS ARE RUNNING IN RIVER

Large Number of Fine Game Fish Are Being Taken Out Nightly at the Fourth Avenue Bridge.

White bass which are supposed to come from Lake Koshkonong and which are said to have been common for several years are now running in the stream and large numbers are being caught at the Fourth avenue bridge where an electric lamp brightly attracts a swarm of ciscoes. Last night there were hardly a few more for the fishermen who assembled on one section of the bridge and some twenty or more hooks baited with minnows were dangling in the water.

CANDIDATES GATHER AT EVANSVILLE FAIR

E. W. Chaffin, Former Presidential Candidate Made Speech—Other Politicians Present.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, Wis., Aug. 30.—The opening day of the Rock county fair dawned dark and cloudy with a steady rain falling until after eleven o'clock and on this account the attendance was rather light. As a whole the exhibits are very good; notably so in the live stock department. The show of cattle, horses and sheep is larger than ever before and the management has been obliged to build temporary pens and stalls to accommodate exhibitors. In the poultry building there is only a fair collection of fowls, but some of these are very fine birds. Among the grain display is an exhibit of Alaska wheat, the first ever grown in this section. It was raised by Henry Austin, who brought the seed from last year's state fair. There is an exceptionally good showing of corn for this year and a good display of vegetables of all kinds. The fruit display shows the effects of the April frosts and is somewhat less in quantity than last year. A collection offered by D. F. Medley, a former townsman now living at Panna, Colorado, is receiving considerable attention. The potatoes and peaches in this exhibit are immense while the apples, pears and plums were of the best. In the fine arts building the ladies have a magnificent display of hand-painted china, also painting in oil, enamel and water colors, fancy work and articles of domestic manufacture. The youth's department contains a splendid showing of needlework, while the educational department is full and the work is excellent. There is a large display of carriages and farm machinery, also an extensive line of modern electrical appliances on exhibition.

The speeches scheduled for this morning, were on account of the rain, postponed until this afternoon when a good crowd listened to very interesting talks by E. W. Chaffin, prohibition candidate for president at the last election and W. G. Humphrey of Milwaukee. The former spoke on Prohibition and the latter on Anti-Saloon movements. Both gentlemen will speak again in the city hall this evening.

The special attractions proved to be the best ever seen here. On account of the mild the baseball game and pony races were postponed. Tomorrow will be La Follette day and H. A. Cooper, William Mitchell Lewis, Francis McGovern and other Senator La Follette or Senator Dooliver are expected to be in attendance.

Leaves for Colorado.

Miss Alice Spencer, who will leave Thursday for Colorado, where she will visit a former college friend, Mrs. Edgar Catling. From there she will go to Denver, Colorado to spend a few days with Mrs. Amy Garwood and expects to arrive in Milwaukee, Montana about Sept. 9, having been re-elected as teacher in English there another year.

Josephine Miles of Janesville is a visitor at the home of her uncle, E. E. Smith.

Robert and Phillip La Follette, sons of Senator and Mrs. La Follette of Madison are spending the week at the home of Mrs. S. W. Andrews.

Walter Hunt and family are home from Detroit, Mich., where they have been visiting relatives for the past two weeks.

Miss Hazel Hankinson will go to Shawano, Wis., Friday, where she is to teach the coming year.

Mrs. George Butts of Janesville is visiting in Evansville this week.

Glenn Johnson, who has been working in Beloit for a short time, has given up his position there and returned home.

MISS ZERNICE WISE SUDDENLY STRICKEN

Succumbs to Effects of Operation for Appendicitis on Day Preceding Marriage Date.

Stricken with appendicitis last Wednesday, Miss Zernice Wise, formerly of this city, underwent an operation last Saturday night but was unable to survive the effects and died yesterday morning at the Beloit hospital, just twenty-four hours before she was to have become the bride of Myron Grifey of this city.

Miss Wise was born near Janesville Oct. 4, 1890, and lived here until a few years ago when she moved with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wise to Beloit and later to Sharon. While the time of her death, she was employed as bookkeeper and stenographer at the fleshy Manufacturing company of Beloit. The funeral will be held from the home of her uncle, Al Reymore, 1127 Northridge ave., at two o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Health.

The body has rights, and we have duties toward it. The body is the lifelong companion of the mind, and it cannot be unimportant how it is treated.

One unbridled passion is enough to destroy the beauty of life. One excess, if it does no more, can mar the grace and harmony of the whole. "He that striveth for the mastery must temperate in all things."

The duty of a wise care for health is bigger than merely adding to our personal happiness. To a large extent it determines the efficiency of our lives. Many a man learns after it is too late that he would have been fit for better and more work if he had always preserved the same and sensible bearing toward the laws of health and life which experience teaches.

No one in these days has any excuse for ignorance of the common practical rules of health. There are a good many popular books on the subject.—Hugh Black.

It is a fallacy to believe that advertising will sell anything. The store or the article advertised must first of all be good. Advertising merely directs attention to it.

THE THEATER

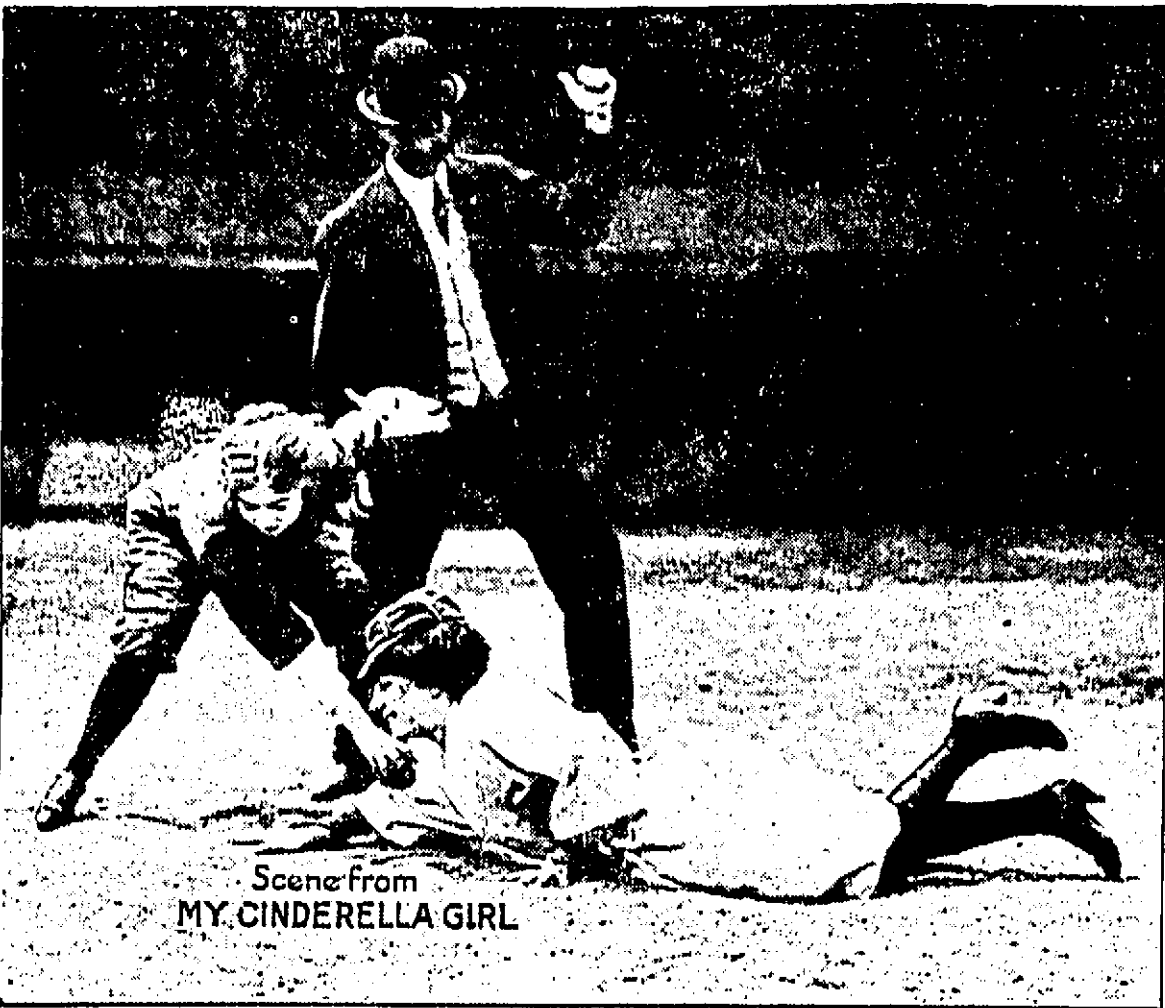

Slaney says the given with an almost childish innocence make the character of "The Blue Mame" as played by Miss Grace Merritt in the play of the same name, which comes to the Myers Theatre Monday, Sept. 5, matinee and evening one of the most interesting that the stage has known. Clyde Fitch, the author of "The Blue Mame," has, it is said, written a face that will be played for years to come. The Messrs. Shubert this season have organized a competent cast of players to present the farce in the large cities. In the cast are, Grace Merritt, Wilton Taylor, India Palmer, Guy D'Emery, Margaret Siegel, John E. Hynes, Gordon Mendelssohn, W. G. Royner, Carlo Wright, John Duno, Wm. H. Burke, Mary MacGregor, Doris Kraker, Mannel Alexander, George Rogers, Louis P. Jones, Oscar Lewis, Sophia Tucker and Mae Dougherty.

Wm. Norris in "My Cinderella Girl." William Norris, the artistic creator of King Dodo, "The Burgomaster, Alan in Babes in Toyland and other famous musical comedy and comic opera characters is said to have scored the greatest success of his career as Tom Harrington, Captain of the "Swash" Baseball Nine in "My Cinderella Girl" which was presented for nearly three hundred nights at the Whitney Opera House, Chicago. It has the season's record for the longest run of any of them in Chicago. The music is by William Frederick Peters, composer of "The Mayor of Tokio" and other popular comic opera scores.

One Salke, who perhaps is unqualified as a producer of beautiful stage pictures and chorus evolutions, produced the musical numbers.

"My Cinderella Girl" will be seen at Myers Theatre Saturday, Sept. 3, matinee and evening.

BIG GALE SWEEPS TEXAS COAST.

Two Towns Are Cut Off From Communication—Houses Wrecked.

Brownsville, Tex., Aug. 31.—The gulf storm which has been sweeping in shore along the western coast of Texas increased in severity and the gale shows little indications of abating. Point Isabel and Brazos de San Diego pass, where the brunt of the wind was felt, are cut off from communication with Brownsville, but before the wind failed several substantial buildings were wrecked, a number of Mexican huts had been wrecked and other minor damage done.

Fears are entertained for the safety of the government gasoline launch Florence, with Engineer R. M. Harlick, Junior Engineer N. J. Blackburn and P. M. Smith, both of Galveston, and a crew of five aboard.

FUTURITY TO BE RUN TODAY.

Fifteen of the Greatest Two-Year-Old Colts and Fillies Start.

Haratona, N. Y., Aug. 31.—The Futurity, the greatest prize of the American turf, worth $35,000 this year, with the winners' share a trifle over $25,000, will call to the post this afternoon fifteen of the greatest two-year-old colts and fillies of the season.

They Are the Pick of the 648 Nominees.

That were eligible after the declarations were all in. Of this list of starters Dashi and Novelti are even favorites for the big race at five to two each. For the first time since 1888, when the inaugural dash was won by Proctor Knott, two horses will go to the post equal choices in the betting and will divide between them the position of favorite. This is the position which Dashi and Novelti hold.

FED CHINAMEN TO THE SHARKS.

Smuggler Accused Through Letter Revealed by Jealous Divorcee.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 31.—Developments in the Chinese smuggling cases came when Mrs. Marie Korondola turned over letters to the immigrant officers resulting in the arrest of her divorced husband. One of the letters said that his schooner, the Honama, had brought in 133 Chinese men and women to New Orleans via Louisiana Bayous, charging $50 for the women and $100 for two men. The letter said that all who did not pay were made to walk the plank and became food for sharks. Korondola was arrested at Pensacola and will be brought here for trial. His former wife's jealousy caused her to turn over the papers to the immigrant officers.

8.57 INCHES OF RAIN FALLS.

Savannah, Ga., Gets Heaviest Down-pour in the City's History.

Savannah, Ga., Aug. 31.—Savannah experienced the heaviest rainfall in twenty-four hours in its history, and one rail line was put out of business completely. A wreck, killing one person, was caused on another line, and shore resorts were marooned. The precipitation was 8.57 inches. The appearance of two typhoons at sea off Tybee Island caused a panic among the inhabitants of that resort, who were completely isolated for a time.

Hangs Himself After Arrest.

New York, Aug. 31.—Because Patrick Gaffney, a sober, industrious mechanic of fifty, could not master his humiliation over what he felt was a false arrest, he hanged himself in his home in the Bronx.

CHOLERA INVADERS BERLIN.

TWO DEATHS, 27 CASES

Disease Is Discovered in Various Sections of City and in Suburb of Spandau.

Berlin, Aug. 31.—Twenty-eight new cases of Asiatic cholera, or of suspected cholera, were reported in Berlin and Spandau, a suburb of some 70,000 people, nine miles west of Berlin. The health authorities state that, in all, only three cases have been definitely established to be true Asiatic cholera; of these, one died in Berlin and one died in Spandau. All suspected cases are being examined bacteriologically.

The health officers say there is not the slightest probability that the disease will spread; that all the cases have been traced to a single original source, a fact that should quiet the public alarm aroused by the authorities' ignorance as to how the disease originated here. Nevertheless the health authorities are very active and alert.

New York, N. Y.—The four daring aviators competing the Wright Bros. team have won the applause of thousands of spectators wherever the marvelous feats of these bird men have been witnessed.

Brookins, it will be remembered, recently suffered a severe injury in order to avoid hitting the spectators with his machine, in alighting. The machine has been replaced with a new Wright machine of an entirely different design, which is capable of carrying five passengers and down away with the front plane entirely. Heretofore the aviator in the Wright Bros. bi-plane has been seated in the middle of the center lifting planes. He, too, has been replaced with a new machine, direct elevation or descent of his machine, and back of him the smaller and other planes. In the new machine the front planes are done away entirely and one plane, serving the same purpose, is used at the rear. This is considered one of the most important changes in the development of bi-plane aviation during the year and should it prove successful it will make it universally used. One of the four men, to be designated later by the Wright brothers, will attempt the New York-St. Louis flight.

Few Knew Great Author. Thackeray's literary work did not help him much when he sought to enter the house of commons. The Rev. Frederick Meyrick in his "Memoirs of Oxford" tells of a dinner given when he stood as a Liberal for that city: "I remarked to him that his must be a special experience, as he was known by fame to most of those whose votes he canvassed. 'Now,' he said, laying down his knife and fork and holding up a finger, 'there was only one man among all that I went to see who had heard my name before, and he was a circulating librarian. Such is mortal fame.' That was in 1837, ten years after the publication of "Vanity Fair."—London Chronicle.

Big Haul From a Georgia Tree. A telephone message from Terrell, Catawba county, Georgia, furnishes the following interesting story. Monday afternoon Luther and Lester Sherrill, Fred Settlemyre, Hanson and Walter Kades sailed forth to rob a "hoo tree," and taking their axes they began chopping on the butt of an old red oak tree measuring three and one-half feet in diameter. It was not a great while until they struck hollow and to their delight as well as surprise out walked an old possum. After carefully fastening her to a split limb another raid was made, when fifteen baby possums were captured. The tree was finally felled and from nearer the top they caught two pretty gray squirrels, captured a swarm of bees and gathered a small quantity of honey.

A clergyman was smoking a cigar under an oak.

"My congregation coughed this morning," he said. "I could hardly make myself heard. It was most annoying."

"Well," said the physician, "the next time they cough, tell them to press the upper lip just beneath the nose. Pressing the nerves in that quarter will stop the most obstinate cough, and, by the same token, it will stop a sneeze too."

"I'll tell you how to stop the hic-coughs. You press hard on the cheek, right in front of the ear. Those nerves there control the hiccoughs as money controls politics. You need only press—the nerves will do the rest."
